My sources inside Radio Free Europe inform me that there are definite rumblings in the direction of correcting some of the evils that I have reported to you over this microphone as existing in the Munich operations of Free Europe particularly. A restudy of the general policy is under way; steps are being taken in the direction of personnel changes. So let's hope that the reform is beginning to show the stirrings of life at least. Don't get too excited, but at least these are faint signs of spring, so to speak.
